A Boy Who Respected His Religion.

As a citizen was going into an Ann street eating house to get a sandwich a lean, ragged, pale-faced, hungry-looking newsboy, about 7 years old, asked him to buy an evening paper, only one cent. "Won't you take a corn beef sandwich?" said the sympathetic citizen to the little chap. "No, sir," was the reply. "I couldn't take that. The citizen entered the place and sat down at a table to eat his sandwich. The little fellow followed him again and asked, 'Will you buy a paper?' He was asked, 'What paper?' 'The Citizen,' was the answer. 'You see I'm a Jew boy, and I want to keep my religion.' The citizen, who is a rigid Presbyterian, was delighted with the little fellow's respect for the laws of Moses, and sent him away happy.

The Old Style White Shirt.

Very few white shirts are made nowadays with pleated bosoms fastening with buttons and buttonholes, as almost all shirts were made forty years ago. Occasionally such shirts are made to order, usually for a man of mature years who has always been accustomed to wearing them and who clings to them from force of habit. And a few fine shirts with pleated bosoms are made for Southern customers, who, however, are likely to buy themselves also with shirts of modern style.

The American and His Teeth.

Americans take better care of their teeth than any other people on earth, and the percentage of Americans who look out for their teeth is all the time increasing.

Bugle Call!

See Monday Papers.

Since our semi-annual sale of Manufacturers' Stocks became the talk of the millions, we have been besieged by offers from manufacturers to turn their products into cash at whatever sacrifice.

Friends have kept our immense store so crowded with customers since the bugle called them to the midsummer bargainfest, that we have taken all the desirable stocks offered, and start the week with over a million dollars' worth of new goods to sell at about half their real value.

Come with the crowd! Come and share our prosperity! Come where popular prices reign.

Respectfully, BLOOMINGDALE BROS., 3rd Ave., 59th and 60th Sts.

It is President Diaz again.

He is Elected Yet Once More to the Office He Has Held so Long.

Washington, July 16.—The news that Gen. Porfirio Diaz has this week been elected by the Mexican people to the office of President of the Mexican Republic for a fifth term is pleasing to everybody who is familiar with the state of affairs in Mexico. No other President could give Mexico the assurance of peace and progress that he obtains through the continuance of the rule of Diaz, the experienced statesman and honest administrator. Some time ago a number of rivals were desirous of entering the field against him, but they got discouraged as the day for the election approached. There was no response in any part of the country to their appeal for public favor. In February last, Gen. Bernardo Reyes, Governor of the State of Nueva Leon, was brought forward as an aspirant for the Presidency, a succession to Diaz, but it was discovered after a time that he could not rally the Mexican people to his support, and thus he was dropped from the contest. He is very popular in his own State, which he has governed with marked ability, and the development of which he has done much to promote, but he has not a record, and no other man in Mexico has a record that can be compared with that of Diaz.

So the latter had a clear field, and it is he who is a triumph which has no parallel in the history of Mexico, or in that of any other republic in the world. It is certainly remarkable that any elective President should be able to hold the reins of power for so long a time. He has been President for more than twenty years, and he has been elected to the office for the fourth time. He has been elected to the office for the fourth time.
